

Being a qualified Instructor

Training as a career

Working with Mentor FLT Training

We are the UK's leading provider of materials handling, workplace transport and safety management training. We work with companies large and small across a variety of industry sectors, providing courses on a wide range of equipment types. Training is carried out on site and at our UK training centres by a team of 160+ self employed Instructors, all delivering courses in their region.

We are always interested in adding to our approved list, any experienced Instructors or accomplished, mature operators with the relevant skills, knowledge and understanding, and the willingness to undergo comprehensive Instructor training.

As a self employed Instructor working with Mentor, you can benefit from:

- Using your experience to start a new career with a professional standing
- Variety and independence in your day to day work
- Minimised travel time by working in your area
- Flexible work patterns and unrestricted time off
- Working for the leading materials handling training provider in the UK

Working with Mentor, you can be sure that all training courses you deliver will be of the highest standard. We work with leading associations and accrediting bodies and make sure all courses comply with the latest HSE legislation and best practice guidance.

Our Self Employed Instructors

Based from home, our subcontracted Instructors travel to customer sites or our UK training centres to deliver courses on our behalf. Helping delegates at all levels to become capable and qualified requires Instructors to have good communication skills and, as the face of Mentor at customer level, a professional manner is key.

We are looking for individuals who have:

- A minimum of 6 month's experience operating a counterbalance and/or reach truck, with an accredited training certificate
- Experience as a qualified Instructor or are willing to train to achieve the qualification
- Good inter-personal skills and the ability to relate to varying needs and skill levels
- A desire to help others learn to become safe, efficient operators
- Self-motivation to work independently, accurately and efficiently
- An appreciation of the need to be reliable and professional at all times
- A full UK driving licence

The rewards

We offer outstanding opportunities in terms of both earning and development. To start with, your Instructor training need not require an initial outlay; as a trainee we can offer incremental repayments throughout your first months as an Instructor. What's more, during your time working with us, you will have the opportunity to broaden your skills to include different equipment types, increasing your potential earnings. In other words, the rewards are great! As a self employed Instructor you can enjoy the benefits and variety of being your own boss with the peace of mind that our dedicated sales force will keep your diary busy all year round.
